

May 13, 2008, Five blasts rocked crowded markets in localities of old Jaipur on Tuesday. At least five people died and 100 injured in five bomb blasts in the heart of Jaipur city.

Agencies report that around 15 injured people have been taken to SMS. The blasts took place between 7.15 and 7.45 pm at crowded market places of the city including Johri Bazaar, Sanganeri Gate, Tripolia Chowk and Manak Chowk. WIPL headquarter is centrally located however approx 4 kms far from these locations.

The places where the blast took place are thickly populated areas of Jaipur.

It's disgusting and dreadful...people have died...families have been ruined and it's all because of some dirty games...Life is too fragile and uncertain....and some people just kill for fun. We used to read about the monsters & evil in our Mythology...but the fact is that they exist even today in our society

Fortunately everyone at WIPL and our family members are safe, you might see some delays in answers or responses from us as many of our techs may not be able to join the next shifts due to Red Alert in the City. We'll however try to address the emergency requests remotely and ensure everything runs smoothly.

I'll personally be online to ensure everything works smoothly during this time.
